Greetings,

I am writing to express my interest in the UX Design Intern position at Salesforce. This position stands out as an excellent opportunity for me to contribute my skills and experience in UX Design to a team and organization that truly values the perspective of users in the design and development process.

I'm a graduate student pursuing Masters in Human-Computer Interaction at Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis. Currently, I'm working as a Research Assistant (UX Design) at Indiana University where I'm focused on creating solutions to make healthcare more patient-centric and reduce administrative burdens for physicians and advisors. In past, I have worked as a User Experience & Visual Designer at design agencies in India for about two years.

As a designer & researcher, I work on the entire design process, from research and strategy to the final visual design and execution. I'm passionate about understanding people, their needs, building better products, creating meaningful experiences, and helping organizations be successful through data-driven design. I look forward to the possibility of applying my background and experiences in this role, learning from your team and having a real impact on Salesforce's mission.

More information about my projects, background, and skills can be found at

I am very excited to apply for this position and would appreciate the chance to discuss this opportunity in more detail. Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Best,
Rahul Jain

PS: While I am based in Indianapolis, I am open to relocating in the US and international travel
